

"There is no message more universal than specificity and uniqueness. "

INES-NOOR CHAQROUN

Ines-Noor Chaqroun is a visual artist born in Casablanca in 1992. Since her childhood in Morocco, she has been taught academic painting and has shown a particular interest in expressionism, yet her technique is undeniably intuitive. Her technical training at the École des Beaux-Arts in Paris, the Academia del Arte in Florence and the Berlin Art Institute, as well as her theoretical training in Toronto, where she obtained a certificate in art and design criticism, have enabled her to arrive at a crystal-clear conclusion - her vocation is to be an artist.

What interests her in her creative process is to feel the work intrinsically, ontologically, literally. Indeed, it is with disarming sincerity that Ines-Noor Chaqroun chooses to open up and address the intimate, the source of life. Through her organic, circular and ovarian forms, Ines-Noor Chaqroun speaks to us with authenticity about the origin and very essence of the human being.

According to the artist: "There is no message more universal than specificity and uniqueness". This is what INC's work is all about: body and mind, intuition and reason, psychology and flesh, understanding the past to understand the present and build the future.

In the calm and solitude of her studio, lulled by the soothing, harmonious sound of her favorite instrument, the hang drum, the artist is constantly experimenting. From wool, through terracotta, to oil and acrylic spray, the artist never shies away from a challenge, using a variety of materials to convey emotions and deliver her unifying message - breaking the distance between all and becoming one.
